A Note from Dr. Dana Burnett

Dana Burnett
Old Dominion University

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.odu.edu/aphe

Part of the Higher Education Commons

Recommended Citation
Available at: http://digitalcommons.odu.edu/aphe/vol2/iss1/8

This Editor Remarks is brought to you for free and open access by ODU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Academic Perspectives in Higher Education by an authorized editor of ODU Digital Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@odu.edu.
A Note from Dr. Dana Burnett

April 2016

The mission of the Old Dominion University Higher Education and Community College Leadership graduate programs is to prepare practitioner-scholars for successful careers in the dynamic, fast-paced and challenging post-secondary environment of the twenty-first century. The APHE Journal is an important component of this mission. The Journal provides an accessible means for graduate students, alumni and our colleagues who wish to publish empirical, conceptual or opinion essays in a peer-reviewed publication.

The journal would not happen without the contributions of many including the authors whose ideas and findings will intellectually stimulate and inform you; the editors who have spent many hours reviewing the scholarship you will find in each edition; and the Journal’s Executive Board who are the driving force behind each edition. My special thanks goes to PhD student Peggy Gesing, for her leadership that has made this edition possible.

Please enjoy this edition of the APHE Journal and consider becoming a future contributor.