The liveliness of the college year presents itself in many ways, both in and out of the classroom. The opportunities of activity are unlimited, as there is a place for everyone in the organizations of Old Dominion. The intellectual and the athlete can each fulfill their interests in at least one of our clubs. These associations provide the participants with fellowship that is so important to young adults. They also offer a purpose in working together for a mutual goal. Here we may discover where our talents and destinies lie, for this is the testing ground for our abilities.
"We, the students of the Old Dominion College of Norfolk, in order to promote among ourselves and with the community that spirit of mutual endeavor and responsibility which is essential to the education of mature citizens in a democratic society..."

The fostering of this goal is a worthy and a serious task. Under the leadership of Jack Allbritton, the Student Government has worked towards a better relationship between the administration and the student body. Many plans for the student union were co-ordinated through the Student Government. They also sponsored Parents Day and helped the Varsity Club with Homecoming. All elections on campus must be handled by the Student Government.

the troubadour

This is the section in which the editor traditionally thanks everyone for all their hours of service, apologizes for all the major errors, and generally justifies her existence. We tried some new things this year and can only hope that the student body will accept them.

As is true of most endeavors, the person with the fancy title is the least important in the construction of the finished product and I want to commend the staff and especially Gerry White for her excellent revamping of the Senior Section. Without the full co-operation of the entire staff, the book would not have come out at all.

The 1963 TROUBADOUR is fact, much to the surprise of the staff, and we hope that it will be recognized for what it is—a sometime good and sometimes very imperfect collection of the year's activities.

BETTY LOU PARKER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF, 1963 TROUBADOUR
During the 1962-63 school year at Old Dominion, many changes resulted in the improvement of the college. "The Mace and Crown Newsmagazine" was a definite part of the changes that brought about acclaim and recognition for the college and its people.

The Newsmagazine endeavored to correlate the many facets of college life into its format. To achieve this end, the staff of the publication worked to bring about unity of purpose among the administration, the faculty, and the students. Each person on the staff brought experience to the organization. The staff was composed of a representative cross-section of the college environment. This furthered the efforts of The Newsmagazine in accomplishing a unity of purpose within the bounds of Old Dominion activities.

"The Mace and Crown" began the second year of publication under the new title. The publication can be placed among the forerunners in the list of changes for the future at Old Dominion College in Norfolk.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Alpha Kappa Psi, the only business fraternity on the Old Dominion campus, is a national organization over fifty years old. Membership is open to all male business students with a better than 2.0 average.

The members of A K Psi participate separately and as a group in many activities on campus. A few of these are: helping with fall registration, operation of the used book store which is located in the student lounge in the business school, and attending the national convention. At present they are engaged in research to consider the feasibility of establishing a business magazine on campus.

Since its inception on campus, Alpha Kappa Psi has come to mean an affiliation with serious-minded, forward looking students and faculty members. The primary goal of the organization is to become acquainted with and adopt the better characteristics of businessmen.

Weekly meetings as well as leisure time get togethers are carried on in their student house.

The Baptist Student Union also sponsors annual convention-wide and state-wide convention leadership conventions, lectures, Student Summer Missions programs as well as social functions. This along with extra time and effort to learn more about the Bible and their faith, constitutes the program of the Baptist Student Union.

The Wesley Foundation is the link between the local Methodist Churches and their students on campus. It provides an opportunity for students to participate in worship, study, service projects, and recreational activities as they mature in the Christian faith.

Members participate in the state-wide Methodist Student Movement and have attended four conferences this year, all centered around the theme, “The Word, the World, and the Sacrament.”

Social activities this year have included such events as a hamburger fry, spaghetti supper, “Beanik Party,” and bowling. A monthly newsletter, The Wesnor, keeps members informed of all activities.

The Rev. J. W. Inge is serving his third year as Director of the Wesley Foundation and chaplain to Methodist Students.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

The Newman and Canterbury House stands regally on a hill overlooking the campus.

Rev. Robert E. Nudd, Chaplain, gives Elaine Brawley a few pointers on the intricacies of Catholic doctrine before the weekly Newman meeting.

NEWMAN CLU

The organization for Catholic students on campus, the Newman Club, seeks to provide the religious, intellectual, and social stimuli so necessary to the Catholic collegian. At Old Dominion, Newmanites participate in the religious services of the Norfolk parishes and attend weekly meetings at which topics of interest to the Catholic students are presented by the chaplain and by guest speakers.

This year, having acquired a house with the Canterbury Club, members of the Newman Club were able to sponsor social activities at the house and were hosts at the Piedmont Provience Leadership Conference and for all of the Newman Clubs in Virginia and in North Carolina.

Rev. Snyder and Dr. Spencer join two of the members for punch.

Members from both groups share the cleaning up responsibilities.

CANTERBURY HOUSE

The Canterbury Association strives to present a rounded program of religious and social activities to any interested students. The Episcopal Church supplies Canterbury with a clergyman, Rev. Roger Snyder, who is available for conferences, leadership, advice, and worship services.

Over the past year and a half Canterbury has shared a house with the Newman Club. Both clubs have worked together to renovate and maintain this house. It is felt that the relationship has been of the utmost success and benefit to the members of both organizations. The programs for the year have included a Communion breakfast, open houses, a party at the Golden Triangle, a Christmas party, and a tea for the Women of the Episcopal Church. An Inquirers Hour has been held weekly for members of other denominations who are interested in the Episcopal Church. The members have traveled and represented the college at all the regional and state conferences throughout Maryland and Virginia.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

We, the members of the Old Dominion College Alumni Association, stand for the promotion of higher education, cultural activities and support of our college in every way making the alumni body a strong and helpful instrument in the growing times to come.

Through our officers, our board of directors and our secretary in our campus office we aim to keep records and information flowing smoothly to mutual advantage.

It is hoped that with the support of our college Alumni Association, future generations may gain the opportunity to secure a college education and to bring honor to themselves and the American way of life.

President Archie Bruns presented President Webb with the Alumni Distinguished Service Citation at the 1962 Alumni Day Banquet.
Operating on the principle that every institution dedicated to the discovery of new ideas, is in occasional need of "arousing . . . persuading and reproaching . . ." the Gadfly has endeavored to publish stimulating literature of interest to the faculty, the entire student body, and the community served by Old Dominion College. Throughout the years the Gadfly will continue to encourage an open-minded body of students, free from prejudice and dedicated to a high degree of awareness to the needs of their fellowmen, for it is in this manner that the Gadfly hopes to help maintain the highest level of education which Old Dominion College is capable of imparting to its students.

Editors of the Gadfly are Eric Brown and James Auker. Dr. Peterson serves as their advisor.

Their regular monthly meetings give the members a chance to get together informally to discuss topics of interest to each of them.
HILLEL CLUB

Meeting twice monthly, the Hillel Club offers the Jewish students an opportunity to join together in fellowship and help each other with mutual problems. Various speakers have appeared before the group. Social activities were not omitted by the members either. The members also had a project of posting signs on campus to notify students of all games played here and away.

SIGMA BETA TAU

DELTA PHI OMEGA

This Honorary scholastic society was inaugurated at the college in May, 1959, in order to encourage scholastic achievement. Delta Phi Omega is a local honorary society which aspires to be a stepping stone to Phi Beta Kappa. The requirements for membership include at least seventy-five semester hours of college work (with at least forty-five semester hours at the local college), a scholastic average of 2.5 or better and a clear record.

HONOR COURT

The Honor Court has original jurisdiction in all cases of violations of the Honor Code. To promote citizenship and fair play in all aspects of college life is the purpose of this court, which is composed of three seniors, three juniors, three sophomores and three freshmen. The Honor Court investigates, determines guilt or innocence and recommends punishment with respect to all infractions of the Honor Code. Members of the court informed all the incoming students of the regulations of the Honor Code through informal lectures in all classes.
The Student Education Association is the collegiate subsidiary of the National Education Association and the Virginia Education Association. This organization helps each student majoring in the field of education develop a professional attitude toward his future career, and membership of the SEA is limited to juniors and seniors in this field.

Primarily, the projects of the SEA have been concerned with acquainting its members and the residents of the Tidewater area with the aspects of education. Delegates went to the state collegiate education convention and helped one of the members, Gary Webb, be elected President of the state organization. The members sponsored a Christmas party for the children from the Speech and Hearing Center of the college.

Old Saint Nick was played by Gary Webb.
The Old Dominion Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society was established in December, 1962. The purpose behind its formation was to provide closer ties between the chemical industry and education in the Tidewater area.

The organization enjoys a close association with the Hampton Roads Chapter of the A.C.S. The membership of the club is open to students majoring in Chemistry and Chemical Engineering.

STUDENT WIVES CLUB

Trying to bring together wives of the students attending the college and to foster free and cultural programs for the enjoyment of all wives are the objectives of the Student Wives Club. Each June, the club presents Ph.T. Degrees (Putting Hubby Through) to all the wives of the Seniors. This year has seen the group go through an intense campaign to recruit new members.
The Pre-Medical, Dental Club is for the purpose of bringing students, whose interests are in the medical fields, in closer contact with their future profession. The means of doing this is through speakers, tours of establishments and films. The club does not forget the social aspect of club activity. They sponsor the End-of-Year Beach Party, an annual Christmas party, and a special banquet for installation of officers.

The club's main project is the collection of medical supplies from local doctors and dentists and transporting them to the New-Bell Warehouse for shipment to Haiti. This one project alone has brought the club nation-wide attention.

The officers turn over to the New-Bell representative the supplies collected in the Fall for shipment to Haiti.
CIRCLE K

Circle K is a unique organization in that it is a service organization for college men and is similar to Kiwanis and other service organizations. It is a leadership and character-building group which serves the campus and the community. Circle K is not a social fraternity.

Circle K is an opportunity for college men because it provides means for the same type of leadership in a college community which service clubs are giving in the business and professional world.

Among the regular projects of Circle K is their co-ordination of the blood drives, operation of a Lost and Found Booth, and aiding in registration. They also sponsor a food, toy, book, and clothing drive for “Project Handclasp,” which is a Navy program of relief for overseas. In the summer of 1963, the local chapter will sponsor the international convention of Circle K.

Rudy Masters was one of the first students to donate blood in the fall blood drive.

ODC debaters now compete successfully with the major academic institutions of the United States. Lee Morris and Forrest Morgan, ODC's top varsity unit, have consistently won over two thirds of their debates in these competitions.

Such notable colleges as Princeton, Holy Cross, Notre Dame, Johns Hopkins, Army, Navy, and the Universities of Chicago, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia have fallen before the ODC team.

WESTMINSTER FOUNDATION

In its second year, the group heard a variety of speakers at the Friday meetings. Discussions were lively and Dr. Tunyogi's wisdom stood out as especially enlightening. The group was host to the Union Theological Seminary drama team and the Presbyterian School of Christian Education Deputation team.
